

Belmont Forum Climate, Environment, and Health 2

Annex for Future Earth

Duration of time:	The maximum duration is 36 months with potential for a no-cost extension no longer than 12 months in duration.
Country/(ies) supported	Participants from countries identified on the OECD DAC List for 2022 and 2023.
Description/qualifications of eligible participants	Submissions are welcome from research institutions and organizations in the aforementioned countries. Teams can include postdoctoral fellows, students, and stakeholders from the same country on a single budget managed by the submitting research institution/organization. If stakeholders are involved from the country, it is expected that reasonable remuneration will be included for their participation.
Stipulations for the maximum number of researchers in the consortium	Not applicable.
Type of contribution + amount of contribution (K€)	Monetary, $400K USD (374K€)  Final funds disbursed are subject to funds available and conversion rate.
Maximum amount that can be requested per project or by researcher (K€)	Each organization can request a maximum total of $100K USD, distributed over the 3 years. In a single multi-national proposal, no more than two requests for Future Earth funds from two different organizations in two OECD DAC List countries can be requested (e.g. Participants from Country A for maximum $100K USD and Country B for maximum $100K USD. In such a case, 2 additional partner organizations eligible for funds from 2 other funding organizations with annexes in this call will be required to meet the full Belmont Forum eligibility criteria.)
Restrictions for use of funds	The funds can be used for research, salaries, relevant research expenditures, remuneration of stakeholder participants, publication costs, and communication/dissemination activities.

	All Belmont Forum awards are expected to budget for in person participation at the Sustainability Research and Innovation Congress. For further questions about eligible costs, please email the Point of Contact below.
Specific themes within the call	Future Earth supports all themes in the call.
Where to submit proposal	www.bfgo.org [and list out instructions if you have a parallel requirement for your submission]
[Additional information]	Inclusion of stakeholders in budgets submitted to Future Earth is encouraged but not required. Outputs and outcomes should include accessible formats targeted towards broader uptake, including by associated stakeholders.
